Ms. Siciliano, District Officers, and State Officers after a successful FDM

OVERVIEW

On Monday, October 20, Mamaroneck High School hosted the District 3S Fall District Meeting, uniting FBLA members for an evening of learning, leadership, and connection. The event featured an inspiring keynote, interactive workshops, officer interviews, and opportunities to network over dinner. Members left motivated, connected, and ready to take on a year of business innovation and leadership growth!

DISTRICT OFFICE

A standout moment of the evening was the district officer interviews, where passionate members demonstrated their leadership skills and vision. This process helped shape the next generation of District 3S leaders. Thank you to everyone who interviewed, and congratulations to those selected!

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Our keynote speaker, Spencer Potts, CEO of Madhive and the newly appointed CEO of Precise.ai, delivered an inspiring and thought-provoking address about the power of curiosity and the importance of researching everything you pursue. He emphasized that success in business and life comes from asking questions, staying relentlessly curious, and diving deep into every opportunity.

Spencer also shared personal insights from his entrepreneurial journey, illustrating how curiosity, persistence, and a willingness to learn have shaped his career. Drawing from his experiences leading innovative tech companies, he showed how adaptability and curiosity drive meaningful success. He encouraged students to stay endlessly curious — not just about business, but about the world around them. His message left attendees energized, motivated, and ready to approach their own goals with confidence and curiosity.

ENGAGING IN WORKSHOPS

The Fall District Meeting featured workshops that truly helped FBLA members hone in on leadership, communication, and career skills. Sessions included How to Become a State Officer, Food Marketing Degree, What Should I Say?!, Leading with Heart, Program of Work, and Crafting a Career in Technology and Innovation. Each offered lessons in professionalism and innovation—empowering members to thrive in FBLA and beyond.

A highlight, Future-Proof Your Wallet, taught members practical financial strategies for budgeting, saving, and managing money wisely. Another favorite, Prepare for Your First Internship, guided students through making great first impressions, staying accountable, and handling challenges with confidence. The session also emphasized the importance of curiosity, communication, and ongoing learning in any real-world professional setting. Both workshops gave members valuable life skills.
